Council Meeting.

A HEAVY SESSION—COMMITTEES REPORT—BY MOTION—RESOLUTIONS.

The regular meeting of the Town Council was held Thursday evening with Mayor Gaetz in the chair and all members present except councillor Stephenson who was sick.

Many communications were read and dealt with. From N.E. Brooks, Divisional Engineer, C.P.R., on water supply stating he would recommend taking water at 6 cents per thousand gallons, that the company would put in a 40,000 gal. tank for storage and intended having a stand pipe at the station, water for stand pipe will be supplied direct from the tank.

From Northern Electric Manufacturing Co. Winnipeg re. fire alarm system. From J.L. Crawford re. Elwell case, also from Town Solicitor Green, on the same question. Left to Executive and Town Solicitor for settlement. From Creamery Co. re drain asking for connection with sewer as soon as spring opened up, referred to sewerage committee. From Dr. Collison that there was no infectious disease in town. From Town Solicitor re. Loiselle vs. Red Deer, that the matter had come up for hearing before Justice Stewart, and a decision would be given in a few days. From Town Commissioner Miffilin re dumping manure on Douglas Street. From Department of the Interior authorizing town of Red Deer to divert water from Red Deer River. From W. A. Cuthbert asking for position of town teamster. From Municipal Engineering Contracting Co stating that they would re-consider their resignation, and in future works allow them to give a full report and explanation before the council take any step in technical part of their work.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.
 The Committee on Executive and Finance T.A. Gaetz, acting chairman, reported payment of several accounts, also that owing to push of business the Council met twice a month, the second and fourth Thursday, and that the Mayor receive a salary of $75 a month and the Secretary-Treasurer's salary be increased by $25 a month.

The Committee reported having gone carefully into the request of the Board of Trade for a grant of $1000 and while they did not feel disposed to make such a large grant they recommended that the sum of $500 be granted the Board of Trade for the purpose of settling forth the advantages of the town and district and that the Board of Trade be requested to prepare the reading matter and also, as a submit proposals to the Committee on Executive and Finance regarding printing and distributing same.

Councillor Bottrell explained the salary grant to the Mayor. The idea of the Committee was to compensate him for the vast amount of work he has to do in overlooking daily the work of the Council with the Secretary, and the conclusion was that starting in a small way the Council could work up to the idea of having a Commission to look after the affairs of the town.

Report Adopted.
 Councillor Pigeon, Chairman License and

Police Committee, reported, recommending a by-law be prepared granting a license to any building used as a theatre or opera house upon payment of a license of $50 per year, and parties not desiring to take out this kind of license may be subject to by-law No. 5.

They recommended a by-law appointing Geo. Roberts chief of Police, and license inspector appointing Houston Cow, as constable and defining his duties.

They also recommended a by-law be prepared authorizing inspection of mills and inspection of stables where dairy cows are kept.

They recommended purchase of equipment for police and duties.

Report adopted.
 Councillor McKee, Chairman Public Works, reported recommending their inquiry by axes for all lumber and supplies by May of 1907.

That all petitions for public improvements be filed by first of April.

In conjunction with fire and water committee recommended purchase of a team for their joint use.

They recommended repeal of by-law 55 regarding cleaning of snow from walks.

Report adopted.
 Councillor Bottrell, Chairman Fire, Water and Light Committee, reported recommending 100 feet of new hose and a list of supplies for firemen be purchased as per copy of order.

That the Secretary be instructed, when in calling for tenders for current year, to include supplies required for Fire and Light Co. units.

That a team and outfit be purchased for use of town in conjunction with Public Works Committee.

That the Council purchase this boiler now in use from Mr. Meares for $60.

 That by-law be passed by making all water consumers responsible for any damage arising through frost affecting the service of the pipes owing to defective layments.
 A number of accounts were recommended to be paid.
 Report adopted.

Moved by Councillor Tallman seconded by Councillor McKee that in the opinion of this council the methods followed heretofore of assessing property in this municipality are very unsatisfactory and lay a heavy burden on some classes of business while allowing others to escape their fair share and that these methods tend to discourage progressiveness on the part of the citizens and to favor speculators in land and erection of a poor class of buildings, therefore be it resolved that the Executive Committee be instructed to make a careful enquiry into improved methods in use in other places and make a report and recommendation to the council at an early date—Carried.

Councillor Bottrell desired to know if anything was being done with regard to opening the Hospital, or anything to report to his council.

Councillor McKee, who is also a director on the Hospital Board said the repairs being made to the Hospital were nearly completed. Before the repairs were made to the attic it was impossible to find room enough for patients and nurses and yet make the institution pay. Now there were six nice rooms in the upper flat which would leave the lower rooms for patients and was a great improvement. He assured the council the Hospital would be opened as soon as plumbing and heating could be finished. The Board would not open until everything was complete then it would not again be closed down for a long time.

Some discussion took place as to the safety of the Opera House building. The mayor pointed out that Mr. Paradise, who is not only an engineer but an old building inspector as well, had inspected the building at his request and found it in a very bad condition, with numerous cracks in the back wall and other defects.

Councillor McKee, seconded by Councillor Tallman, moved that pending the reports of the building inspector, the council assume no responsibility for the security of the Opera House and that no license will be issued for public gatherings. Carried.

A by-law appointing L.C. Fulmer assessor passed its several readings.

Councillor Bottrell introduced a motion instructing the Town Solicitor to prepare a by-law dividing the town into two wards, the wards will be probably as follows: All north of Ross ave. to be ward one, all south of Ross ave. to be ward two and all west of Railway track to vote in ward two.

The council adjourned to the 28th inst.

Honor Wilding, looking steadily out a window of the city library, was seeing visions, all of which concerned a yellow-haired young man. Each vision was a scene from the past, and each vision was a scene from the past, and each vision was a scene from the past.

Finally her eyes traveled to the farther corner, where the man, his back to her, was very shabby, but he had yellow hair, and he was about the height. Just then he turned a little and began tightening his belt. Honor heard the man's belt rattle. She had heard that if one were very, very hungry it helped a little to get one's waist very tight. Poor fellow! Then he turned entirely around and took up his ragged hat. Honor dropped her magazine, her gloves, her purse, her handkerchief and her parasol and sprang toward him.

"Why, Mervin Fairbanks, how glad I am to see you!"

"Well, you know my name as a prophet since I said that you should not see me again till you would be glad of the sight. And how goes your work with you, Miss Honor Wilding?"

Honor expected him to shrink from her, ashamed of his apparent poverty, but she remembered he usually had done the unexpected. He picked up her belongings, and they went out. Standing in the shadow of the gray-stone building, she lifted hesitating eyes to his.

"Will you come home with me, Mervin? I want to know to what your wanderings these past two years have led you."

She was surprised again at his quick consent. She remembered Mervin Fairbanks, didn't you?"

"You are Mervin Fairbanks, philanthropist, and didn't you?"

"You are Mervin Fairbanks, philanthropist, and didn't you?"

"You are Mervin Fairbanks, philanthropist, and didn't you?"

"You are Mervin Fairbanks, philanthropist, and didn't you?"

"You certainly did," answered Honor, smiling faintly.

"I resolved to go away and forget you. I did the one, but not the other. I wanted you this minute more than I ever desired you in my life, and my eyes tell me that you are not indifferent. Honor, my little girl, will you wait for me till I can come to you as a man ought?"

But she was leaning forward eagerly, her eyes suffused with tears, her sweet lips trembling.

"Why must you go away?" she pleaded.

"Don't let a wretched matter of money part us. We have lost five years, Mervin, and I want to make up for it."

"For a moment he looked at her with a gleam of hope, but then he smiled, and his eyes were gravely fixed, and he put his arms around her.

"Dear," he said fervently, "I'm richer than you are twice over. I've kept on making money these two years, just as I shouldn't think so hard. I was going to ask you to wait till I was a millionaire, but I've changed my mind. I don't want you to feel as if a beggar were making love to you. I am waiting, for though the tailor said he would have them there by noon I know by sad experience that there might be a delay."

"But, Mervin, your clothes—don't understand," she gasped when she had recovered her breath.

THE DAIRYMAN

Some Good Rules by a State Dairy Inspector.

Remove the milk of every cow at once from the stable to a clean dry room, where it will be pure and sweet. Do not allow cans to remain in stables while they are being filled.

Strain the milk through a metal gauze and a funnel cloth or layer of cotton as soon as it is drawn.

Aerate and cool the milk as soon as strained. If an apparatus for ailing and cooling at the same time is not at hand the milk should be ailed first. This must be done in pure air, and it should then be cooled to 45 degrees if the milk is for shipment or to 60 degrees if for home use or delivery to a factory.

Never close a can containing warm milk which has not been ailed.

If it is stored in a clean place of cloth or mosquito netting should be used to keep out insects.

Keep the night milk under shelter so rain cannot get into the cans. In warm weather hold it in a tank of fresh, cold water.

Never mix fresh, warm milk with that which has been cooled.

Do not allow the milk to freeze. Under no circumstances should anything be added to milk to prevent its souring. Cleanliness and ails are the only preventives needed.

All milk should be in good condition when delivered. This may make it necessary to deliver twice a day during the hottest weather.

When cans are handled for they should be full and curdling, springing open.

The Uterus.

Milk utensils for farm use should be made of metal and have all joints smoothly soldered. Never allow them to become rusty or rough inside.

Do not haul waste products such as the milk cans to the house. They are liable to attract the skunk milk which is kept clean.

Cans used for the return of skim milk can be used for other purposes, but they should be cleaned as soon as they arrive at the farm.

Clean all dairy utensils by first thoroughly washing them in warm water, then clean inside and out with a brush and hot water in which a cleaning material is dissolved; then rinse and, lastly, sterilize by boiling water or steam. Use pure water only.

After cleaning keep utensils inverted in pure air and sun if possible until they are perfectly dry.

Use the best milk possible. In Thompson, Maine State Dairy Inspector.

Strive for the Best.

The essential requisites for successful rearing of calves are a high ideal of what is wanted—a good place to keep the young calves, good blood as a foundation, and good feeding and management. I have often heard it said, "Give me the first six years of a child's life, and I will tell you the rest of his life will be a success." So I believe that the conditions under which an animal is reared determine its future life.

For the purpose of this article, I will assume that the calf is a male, and that it is a calf of the dairy type. I will assume that the calf is a male, and that it is a calf of the dairy type. I will assume that the calf is a male, and that it is a calf of the dairy type.

The Good Bull.

Authorities say that "daughters take after their fathers and sons after their mothers." In predominant characteristics. This is true of all animals. If a bull's lineage can be traced through a line of remarkable milkers his value will be enhanced. He will transmit the qualities of his dam to his offspring. It often happens that the farmer who buys cows from a good milk producer will find that the cows are good milkers. He cannot wait for the second generation. He thinks his cows are unprofitable because they are not as good as he had hoped they would be. It usually takes at least two generations to get a herd into good working condition. Don't get hasty, but keep the facts in mind and work toward a definite purpose. Above all, use a good sire. You need good cows, and you need a good sire. You need a good sire. You need a good sire.

MODES IN FUR.

Some Good Rules by a State Dairy Inspector.

Remove the milk of every cow at once from the stable to a clean dry room, where it will be pure and sweet. Do not allow cans to remain in stables while they are being filled.

Strain the milk through a metal gauze and a funnel cloth or layer of cotton as soon as it is drawn.

Aerate and cool the milk as soon as strained. If an apparatus for ailing and cooling at the same time is not at hand the milk should be ailed first. This must be done in pure air, and it should then be cooled to 45 degrees if the milk is for shipment or to 60 degrees if for home use or delivery to a factory.

Never close a can containing warm milk which has not been ailed.

If it is stored in a clean place of cloth or mosquito netting should be used to keep out insects.

Keep the night milk under shelter so rain cannot get into the cans. In warm weather hold it in a tank of fresh, cold water.

Never mix fresh, warm milk with that which has been cooled.

Do not allow the milk to freeze. Under no circumstances should anything be added to milk to prevent its souring. Cleanliness and ails are the only preventives needed.

All milk should be in good condition when delivered. This may make it necessary to deliver twice a day during the hottest weather.

When cans are handled for they should be full and curdling, springing open.

The Uterus.

Milk utensils for farm use should be made of metal and have all joints smoothly soldered. Never allow them to become rusty or rough inside.

Do not haul waste products such as the milk cans to the house. They are liable to attract the skunk milk which is kept clean.

Cans used for the return of skim milk can be used for other purposes, but they should be cleaned as soon as they arrive at the farm.

Clean all dairy utensils by first thoroughly washing them in warm water, then clean inside and out with a brush and hot water in which a cleaning material is dissolved; then rinse and, lastly, sterilize by boiling water or steam. Use pure water only.

After cleaning keep utensils inverted in pure air and sun if possible until they are perfectly dry.

Use the best milk possible. In Thompson, Maine State Dairy Inspector.

Strive for the Best.

The essential requisites for successful rearing of calves are a high ideal of what is wanted—a good place to keep the young calves, good blood as a foundation, and good feeding and management. I have often heard it said, "Give me the first six years of a child's life, and I will tell you the rest of his life will be a success." So I believe that the conditions under which an animal is reared determine its future life.

For the purpose of this article, I will assume that the calf is a male, and that it is a calf of the dairy type. I will assume that the calf is a male, and that it is a calf of the dairy type. I will assume that the calf is a male, and that it is a calf of the dairy type.

The Good Bull.

Authorities say that "daughters take after their fathers and sons after their mothers." In predominant characteristics. This is true of all animals. If a bull's lineage can be traced through a line of remarkable milkers his value will be enhanced. He will transmit the qualities of his dam to his offspring. It often happens that the farmer who buys cows from a good milk producer will find that the cows are good milkers. He cannot wait for the second generation. He thinks his cows are unprofitable because they are not as good as he had hoped they would be. It usually takes at least two generations to get a herd into good working condition. Don't get hasty, but keep the facts in mind and work toward a definite purpose. Above all, use a good sire. You need good cows, and you need a good sire. You need a good sire. You need a good sire.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 19th, 1907.

Our member is so busy orating on the virtues of the Liberal party and sugar coating the ministers that he doesn't seem to have time to devote to Red Deer. We would suggest that he ask why Red Deer was given the cold shoulder with regard to the Judicial District, and why Wetaskiwin, away up to one end of the district, was made the centre, contrary to all fairness and decency. He might also ask why Red Deer was the only important town in the province overlooked with regard to a stock Judging School. It was not the intention of the department to hold a school here and we would not have had one had it not been for the fact that small pox at a southern town compelled the officials to go some place else so they, at the last moment, came to Red Deer. Our district should be first, foremost, and always in the mind of our member. There is a general feeling among the electors that there is too much generalizing, too much hot air and not enough real interest in the constituency. Anything that will promote our interest should receive his deepest consideration.

Says the Toronto Mail and Empire:

Sir Wilfrid Laurier took W. B. McInnes from his Yukon Governorship and Judge Henderson from the Bench to fight Premier McBride. Neither of them have a seat in the Legislature, and both are discredited and disliked for their attempt upon the splendid man who rules the Pacific province so well. We shall all watch now for the sequel. The positions to which these politicians are appointed will be the price agreed upon when they undertake to betray their province into the hands of the Ottawa grafters." With regard to Judge Henderson it will probably be found that his resignation has not been accepted.

The February number of The Canadian Magazine contains an interesting article by Prof. Goldwin Smith entitled "The Stage of Former Days." Prof. Smith gives an appreciation of players who have long since gone from the scenes, and he advocates the endowment of theatres as powerful organs of culture. The article is accompanied by ten reproductions of old engravings and is altogether a valuable contribution to current literature. The number contains also eleven other articles, nine of which are illustrated. There are five short stories, one of which is by Mr. A. R. Carman.

"The fundamental basis of all good advertising, whether it be of national or local character," said Nathaniel C. Fowler, Jr., in an address to the Twentieth Century Club, "is vested in the newspaper and periodical of regular issue. All other methods are worth comparatively little unless used in conjunction with news paper or periodical advertising." He places newspaper and periodical publicity at the head of the list because "the advertisement which the readers pay for the privilege of seeing is worth a dozen times more than the advertiser can thrust upon him."

The death of Lady Victoria Grenfell, eldest daughter of Lord and Lady Grey, is the first death of a member of the Governor-General's family in Rideau Hall which has been the home of Canada's Governors General since Confederation. The first sympathy will be extended to the parents by the people of Canada. The disease which struck down Lady Grenfell was typhoid, contracted probably in Mexico.

Mr. C. S. Hyman is going to remain in the cabinet as Minister of Public Works, but he has resigned his seat for London, and an election will have to be held for that constituency. Presumably he will again be a candidate, and if so, it will be exceedingly interesting to note what will happen in view of the astonishing disclosures in connection with his last election. If the London voters do their duty they will turn Mr. Hyman down as a protest against such open and flagrant corruption as was practiced at the last election.

Two-cent-a-mile passenger rates are not universal in the United States but there are many states in which they are obtainable. There can be no doubt that the railways over the border have some excellent ideas. One advertises a thousand mile ticket for $20, good for one year, and available not only for the holder, but for any member of his family, and anyone else to whom he likes to lend it.

The grain crop in Russia is short 662 million bushels and the deficiency must be made up in Canada and the United States. Here is a great chance for our surplus grain as there is sure to be a shortage for at least two years, and experts say the outlook for the Canadian Northwest farmers under the circumstances is the best for years.

The citizens of Red Deer and district are apparently taking hold of the idea of making the Red Deer Exhibition Association limited; a success. There are now subscribed some 487 shares, something like 324 more than the old Agricultural Association had, and the stock is owned by 91 shareholders.

Postmaster General Mulock, reports a surplus of $800,000 in his department this year. Remembering the raking down the government got last year for not spending more in the west, he hastens to announce that he will inaugurate a policy of liberal extension of postal facilities in the western country.

The Thaw trial in New York has caused a flutter of excitement throughout the fashionable world at the horrid details appearing in the daily prints. The social conditions of the great metropolis, according to the evidence, are no better than the worst cities of ancient history even were.

A bill has been introduced by Hearst into Congress making bribery at federal elections a felony. Such a bill would put an end to a lot of trouble in Canada and put the hugging machines and wandering Willies out of business.

The Laurier government is decaying at the top. Every change in the cabinet in recent years has brought a weaker man to take the place of the departing Minister—Frederickton Gleazer.

The time will come, and come sooner than many of us expect, when the Conservative party with its grand old policy will again guide the affairs of this country.

Lord Strathcona I. interviewed on his return to London, England said the population of Canada at the end of the century would be 80,000,000.

So far this has been the least interesting session of the Dominion Parliament held in many years.

Firemen's Concert

The Annual Concert of the Red Deer Fire Department was held in the Opera House on Tuesday evening last, and was a pronounced success. The loyal fire fighters of our town never do things by half and the entertainment last week bore out this contention fully. In the opinion of many the programme was the best presented to a town audience in a long time. From the very first item on the programme interest was not allowed to lag. The first number, Firemen's drill, the Brigade taking marching orders from Chief Meeres, was carried out without a hitch, and showed the strength of the Brigade, and was concluded with a rousing chorus. A pianoforte solo, from Port and Pensant overture, by Fireman Patchett, was particularly well rendered. The comic duet by Firemen Thompson and Hart representing the upper ten and the lower five, brought down
the house with laughter especially Fireman Thompson's get up of punches and paint. The step dancing of Fireman Gies and Giehlin was good, the latter, who was dressed as a clown, wearing a mask presumably to hide his natural shyness, was recalled.
Fireman Richards and Gies
rendered a difficult concert duet most acceptably, and the first part of the programme closed
with a comic song by Fireman H. Gies which brought down the house. In the next part Fireman Kothnie gave a splendid exhibition of heavy weight lifting, putting over his head 150 pounds
and lifting a big 600 pound air and dropping it in a lump that nearly went through the floor.
Then the clown came along and carried off all the paper weights in one hand. The burlesque was complete and the audience was entertained at the end. Fireman
Thompson, Meeres, Gies and Hart
gave a splendid vocal quartet, McQueens Orchestra rendered
one of their appropriate selections, and the Indian club swinging was very interesting. Fireman Hart gave another comic song, and was recalled; after which the Fire Department Band rendered a brass quartet, and the second part closed with an hypnotic exhibition by professor Pneumal which was very laughable and a great take off on hypnotists in general. The whole programme was concluded with
"Grimeshaw, Bagshaw, and Bradshaw" which was carried out to the satisfaction of all present.
The play was full of amusing situations and Fireman B. Griffith as Grimeshaw, was the star of the evening. The national anthem brought proceedings to a close.
We are pleased to hear that the Fire Brigade will clear about one hundred dollars above expenses
by the entertainment.

SAYS WINTER IS OVER

The winter is over. The Albertan does not venture this prediction on its own authority, its weather prophet being out of business at the present moment.
But the Stoney Indians say there will be no more winter and they ought to know. The Stoney Indians knew this was going to be the most severe weather on record and they had preparations for it. And it has been the most severe weather in all time. The Stonies now say that with this storm the backbone of the winter
is broken.—Albertain.

IN THE LEGISLATURE.

On motion of Mr. Cushing, the bill to incorporate the Grand Lodge of Alberta Independent Order of Odd Fellows was read the second time and referred to the committee on miscellaneous
and private bills. Mr. Simmons (Lethbridge) moved the second reading of the bill to incorporate the Red Deer Railway and Power Co. Mr. Hiebert (Rosebud) objected to the second reading of the bill until printed copies had been laid on the table. The bill was accordingly ordered to be printed. Mr. Hiebert moved the Vermilion and Cold Lake Ry.
Co. charter was read the second time and referred to the railway committee.

Edmonton, Feb. 14.—What is probably the most important declaration ever made by any western provincial government was made by the minister of public works in the Alberta house this afternoon when he stated the government's policy on the telephone question. Briefly, the government is not only going to go into the long distance business on a huge scale but it is going to supply all cities, towns, rural municipalities and local improvement districts that want them with telephones at the lowest possible price, the province
undertaking the installation, operation and maintenance of the whole system all over the province.

will be a public meeting and every one is invited to attend.

The Alberta Poultry and Pst
Stock Association will hold their fourth Annual Exhibition in Edmonton on March 6th, 7th and 8th.

The executive Committee are now busily engaged completing details for the best exhibition they have yet held. These Shows held annually by this Association are fast coming to the front and gaining in popularity as one of the leading exhibitions and conventions of their kind in the Western Provinces, and this year,
with the substantial assistance
of the Department of Agriculture, (Who are taking an active interest in the poultry industry throughout the Province in a very practical manner) believe they are in a better position than ever to give to the public not only and to those at a distance, having entries to make, the best possible
service and satisfaction.

Mr. A. W. Foley, poultry expert, late of Regina, Ont., but now of Edmonton, and connected with the Department of Agriculture, will be present and give addresses at each session of the convention on poultry subjects. He has prepared a series of time light views which illustrate different branches of the work in a most interesting manner. Mr. Foley is probably the most practical poultry man in Western Canada to-day, is a first class speaker, and no one should miss hearing him if engaged in the poultry business either as a fancier or com-mercially.

The officers of the Association
would be pleased to meet poultry breeders and fanciers from all parts of the Province during the exhibition to elect officers and appoint committees at various points, in order that the work may be more easily and satisfactorily distributed in the future.

The usual reduced rates on exhibition stock will be granted by the railways, and it is hoped that a large entry will be made by outside breeders. Every precaution will be taken to guard against climatic exposure, etc.,
both on route and at Edmonton.
Reduced passenger rates on railways are being secured and will be announced later, or made known on application to the Secretary as soon as rate is decided upon.

The first Provincial Seed Fair
under the auspices of the Department of Agriculture, and assisted by the Seed Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture Calgary, will be held on the same dates and in the same building at Edmonton. Admission to both fairs will be free.
A copy of prize lists and entry form will be mailed on request of intending exhibitors by the exhibitors by the Secretary Treasurer, W. A. Fife, P. O. Box 213, Edmonton.

FROZEN TO DEATH

his way. He came from Dakota
about two years ago.

DEAD ON THE PRAIRIES.

of Daniel J. McLean, a young

pecker, on the prairie three quarters of a mile east of Taber, in the direction of Woodpecker, with two bottles full of whisky in the

who happened to be at the mine
at Woodpecker, was called, and the district coroner, J. D. Hip-

Do You Weigh Enough?

Everyone of average intelligence knows something of the immense value of Cod Liver Oil and Iron remedial agents. Consequently no one would be surprised to hear that very satisfactory results had followed from giving "FERROL" (a perfect emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, Iron and Phosphorus) in cases where Iron and Oil appeared to be needed.

But, when we ask people to believe that in an actual and scientific test made by an eminent and well-known physician, twenty-five bottles of

were given to ten patients and the result was a net increase in weight of ninety-five pounds, we are aware that we are asking a great deal; nevertheless we are prepared to prove that this is an absolute fact, by evidence that no reasonable person can reject. Moreover, this is no isolated instance, but only one of many equally remarkable.

Very few people properly appreciate the importance of maintaining their normal weight.

There is no surer indication of approaching disease than a considerable loss of weight and even where this is not the case, a man whose weight is not up to the average is always in danger of contracting any of the germ diseases which are unfortunately so prevalent.
On the other hand, while his weight is well maintained,
a man is practically proof against attack, and if disease is already present, the fact that the weight is being increased is proof positive that the disease is being overcome.

The desirability of maintaining the weight should therefore be apparent. In view of this we can confidently recommend "FERROL," the surest, speediest and most effective medicine by which the weight
may be maintained or restored.

He will be able to tell the ranchers exactly what their steers will bring on the American market, thus saving them having steers to sell will be directly benefited by an interview with this gentleman.

The Weekly Live Stock Reporter one of the reliable market reports of U.S. is published by this firm. Pres. Geo. F. Root has just received a letter stating that W. S. Williamson, the popular and successful Canadian live stock salesman at London and Liverpool has already embarked for Canada.

Sunday last was the eighth anniversary of Rev. Canon Hinchliffe's ministrations in Red Deer. The rev. gentleman, with some feeling, made reference to the time when the small church was being built and he mixed the mortar for the stone work. Things have changed since then, and now a beautiful church occupies the grounds, largely due to the unflinching efforts of the minister in charge.

C. A. J. Sherman, architect, after a careful inspection of the Opera House, declares the building is perfectly safe. No money will be spared to make the building as strong and substantial as any building in town.

The adjourned annual meeting of the Red Deer Mill & Elevator Co., was held in Krause's hall on Monday last, Dr. Collison in the chair. It was shown that the auditors report could not be complete owing to the poor state in which the books were kept. Mr. Sanson addressed the meeting advising an increase of stock to the amount of about $17,000 and that the Bank of Commerce would be as lenient as possible with them. The stockholders present were willing to subscribe about six or seven thousand dollars extra in stock. Messrs. Michener, Jamieson and Armstrong were appointed a committee to look up a competent manager with money to take stock in the concern and to find out which would be the better course to pursue, to let the company go to the wall or to reorganize, the shareholders being willing to assist as much as possible in making the company successful. The meeting adjourned to March 4th.

Correspondence

(We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions of our correspondents.)

A WARM SUBJECT

Dear Mr. Editor, If there is one thing more than another that we dislike it is running into print, but Dame Rumor has been using our name so freely and as the matter is of considerable public interest, we are going to ask for the use of a little space in your widely circulated and influential paper to put ourselves fairly and squarely before our neighbors.

Briefly, we have been accused of having done a very large and satisfactory amount of furnace work in this town and district of recent years and we take this opportunity of admitting the charge to be true. And to give further evidence that our statement is correct we are giving you herewith the names of some of the friends for whom we have installed furnaces recently, and as they are all public spirited people, we know they will not object to being interviewed in the public interest. We have put in one furnace each for—Chester Stewart, Geo. Duston, W. E. Trump, Jas. Faris Jr., W. E. Payne, Henry Reinholdt, Geo. W. Green, J. Wallace, R. Muir, J. Shannon, J. F. Butler, Geo. H. Bavinheimer, A. W. Peard, Harry McDonald, J. M. Smith, T. Gudmundson, August Amundson, R. C. Brumpton, and three each for Ex-Mayor Michener, Hugh Clarke and Mayor H. H. Gatz.

In case there should be a disposition on the part of any member of the community to put us to the test on their own account, we now give notice that it is our intention to bring in this year the first straight car of hot air furnaces ever imported at one time by any one firm in our town, as far as we can learn. So Mr. Editor, if you or any of your readers still doubt our ability in this line, we pledge our word to make it hot for you or them if the price is forthcoming. Thanking you, dear Sir, for the use of your columns, and pleading as an excuse for intruding upon your space your well known readiness to do justice to all,

Yours faithfully,
Smith & Gatz.
